A YOUNG MAN WITH BRAINS.

The death of Allen Thorndike Rice is the sad end of a life that gave remarkable promise. It is worth while in times like these to make note of the character and career of one so young and gifted. Mr. Rice was born rich, but in his case it was not a misfortune as it is with many young men. While he spent most of his young manhood in Europe and was graduated from Oxford, he did not lose his love for his native land as many young Americans do.

At the age of 23 he bought the North American Review, then a sleepy old publication, and in a short time so popularized it that it soon became one of the most interesting and valuable reviews in this country. He was one of the foremost American linguists, and could speak the languages of Europe, especially those of France and Germany, with remarkable fluency. He was one of the hard-workers in literature, and his adventures were wonderfully successful. He compiled the noted volume of "Reminiscences of Lincoln," and gave the world that interesting work, "The Ancient Cities of the New World." He owned and edited the Parisian journal, Le Matin. In the midst of a life crowded with financial responsibility and great literary undertakings, he found time to write much political matter for the North American Review. He was an ardent republican, full of enthusiasm, and was a power in the late campaign both with his pen and with his money. It will be deeply regretted that such a busy and useful life should be closed at the early age of 26. He was never married and there is neither father nor mother nor brothers nor sisters to inherit his fortune.

There is an interesting story told of Mr. Rice's romantic boyhood which is well worth repeating in the Gazette. When the boy was nine years old the parents separated, and a surprisingly vigorous contest was made by each for his possession. His mother was rich, and the result was that Allen inherited her fortune. During this unpleasant parental struggle to obtain possession of the child, he was at school near Boston one afternoon when a burly huckster, perfectly black, entered the room and asked to see Allen, as he had a message for him. When the boy got within his reach, he was seized, hurled into the back and driven off at the highest speed the horses could reach. One of the horses dropped dead, but the driver managed to escape his pursuers, and thus the scheme of the mother was successful. Here is the rest of the thrilling story of the abduction:

The black driver, it seems, was a white man blacked with burnt cork, but washing himself he left two spots behind his ears. By this time he was discovered, fined, and imprisoned. Following the clue thus gained, the boy and his party were traced to Northern Vermont, and to the house in which he was located. The officers, who searched it from cellar to roof, failed to find the lad. He was there, however, carefully concealed underground. But the watch grew too close and the party slipped away with him one night to Canada. They next appeared at Right Pond, where, with fishing rods and guns, they figured as tourists. Brought to bay again, they fled to Portland, Me., and there embarked on a coasting vessel sailed to Richmond, Virginia. From there they took a vessel for England. During the greater part of this time Allen was disguised as a girl to escape detection. This is how it was that Mr. Rice came to visit Europe so early and be educated there. When he attained his majority he decided to return to his native country, and the majority cost him people $30,000, for no expense was spared to elude the pursuers.

HOPE FOR FUNK.

The readers of the Gazette may not believe it, but it is nevertheless true, that Dr. Funk the editor of the New York Voice, the third party organ which is a total stranger to consistency, is getting his eyes open. It was never supposed that he could see the signs of the time so as to read them, but he is beginning to read them a little, and herein is hope. Heretofore Dr. Funk has been uncompromisingly opposed to every sort of license. He would rather see whiskey slops free on every street corner and drunkenness reigning supreme, than grant a single license, or enact a restrictive law. He worked against the local option scheme of New York which the republicans wanted to try, and was a bitter enemy to the New Jersey law. But the other day he wrote a letter to the Brooklyn Eagle in which he made the following recommendations for that city:

Let this be the platform: (1) Rigid enforcement of all laws; (2) virtual local option by election districts. No license to be granted to any saloonkeeper except he obtains the consent of a majority of the voters in the election district in which the saloon is located.

This is good republican doctrine in the main, and practical temperance reform. If Dr. Funk and his third party friends had shown that kind of a temperance spirit in years gone by, say during last fall, there would be a temperance governor in New Jersey, and a local option law in force in New Jersey.

If Dr. Funk wants to see something good coming from his life, as regards temperance reform, at least, let him stand abreast with the demands of the times, and throw his influence, and that of his Voice, for the temperance measure which will effect the most good.

There comes a sad news that there is likely to be a serious interference with the good feeling that has for a long time prevailed between the peach growers of New Jersey and Delaware. The peach growers of the latter state are disconsolate. There is no sign of a disastrous frost or blight of any kind, but they are confronted with the terrible prospect of "having such a large crop that they cannot make any profit out of it." Mugwumps must be thick down in Delaware, for only that kind of people grumble at prosperity. But there is another thing quite as appalling as the over-abundant crop which sends terror to the heart of the peach growers of Delaware. "The peach growers association of Northern New Jersey are about to cut out 500,000 young trees, and have adopted a liberal code of rules and regulations that will tend to encourage the peach growing industry." The Delaware people are growing quite mad at the people of New Jersey for this bold attempt to increase the size of the peach crop.

It is rather ludicrous for New York city to talk about rearing monuments to anybody. The city has had experience in that line of business that has made itself ridiculous, and even disgraceful. The city in different times since 1879 has been engaged in getting funds for the following monuments:
For the Statue of Liberty.
For the Grant monument.
For the Philip H. Sheridan monument.
For the Centennial arch.
For the Postmaster Pearson monument.
For the Negro Minstrel Bryant monument.
Not one of these monuments has been built by the city of New York, and its course in regard to the Statue of Liberty and the Grant monument cannot be called anything less than disgraceful. Now New York wants to "erect" a monument to Horace Greeley, and a committee has been appointed to solicit funds. Of course the monument will never be built, if its building depends upon the rich men of New York. They never have built a monument yet, and probably never will. They are too stingy to make a success of anything of that kind. If Horace Greeley ever has a monument in city hall park, the printers will have to build it by popular subscription.

The Rev. Dr. Storrs of Brooklyn says: "Accumulations of wealth, as the result of vast continuous enterprise and labor, is not deemed naturally favorable to the progress of the Gospel of Christ." And Jo Howard comments: "Yet it was observed that the good doctor accepted a purse of $30,000, which his parishioners, through the late S. B. Olden, handed him, and made some beautiful remarks about it at the time." It is becoming very popular for a certain class of ministers to cry down capital, and the rebuke Jo Howard gives Dr. Storrs is a good one. But what would Dr. Storrs do without the accumulation of wealth in his church? How would Talmage fare without it, or John Hall or any other of the great preachers? Besides this accumulated wealth which Dr. Storrs condemns, builds great churches, pays big salaries to such preachers as Dr. Storrs, which they gladly accept, and even demand, endows colleges, erects hospitals and publishes all such christian enterprises. Men like Dr. Storrs should be practical.

The press will please take down the slate and give Ohio a big credit mark: "Eugene Smith, a lawyer of Youngstown, abnormally conscientious, has gone insane over the thought that he done something which would injure or inconvenience others. Myron Wood, a politician of the same place, is reported to have recently declined an office. The remarkable nature of these unprecedented events will be fully realized when it is remembered that Youngstown is located in Ohio."

There are a good many heroes whose names scarcely get in the papers, and when they die are soon forgotten; and the locomotive fireman in New York who had been pinned to the ground by a red-hot fire box, called a brakeman, dictated his will, said a prayer and died, displayed that heroic temper that should be remembered in a more substantial way than having simply an obituary notice.

PERSONALS.

Sam Small, the evangelist, is very ill at his home at Atlanta, Georgia. His illness was brought on while on a tour through the swampy regions of Alabama and since his return to Atlanta his condition has not improved.

Andrew Carnegie has announced that he will neither receive nor open any letters sent to him while on his travels in Europe this summer. During his coaching tour with Mr. Blaine he was simply deluged with correspondence, a large portion of which was begging letters from strangers.

Colonel John Hay, who is to edit the New York Tribune during Mr. Reid's absence, has been in New York to look over the situation and prepare for his editorial duties. This is the second time Mr. Hay has been called from his literary labors on the life of Lincoln to the management of the Tribune.

A newspaper syndicate recently offered William E. Gladstone the sum of $25,000 for a series of twenty-five articles, "on subjects of current interest. The following reply to this proposition has just been received: "At my age the stock of brain power does not wax but wanes. And the public calls upon my time leave me only a fluctuating residue to dispose of. All idea of a series of efforts, is therefore, I have finally decided, wholly beyond my power to embrace."

Over 60 people were forced to leave their homes yesterday to call for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine. If your blood is bad, your liver and kidneys out of order, if you are constipated and have headache and nervous prostration, don't fail to call on any druggist to-day for a free sample of this grand remedy. The ladies praise it. Every one likes it. Large size package 50 cents.

ONE HUNDRED POISONED.

TERRIBLE RESULTS OF EATING ICE CREAM.

Whole Families Sick, and Believed Thirty and Forty Will Probably Die—The Casualty Record.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 18.—South Glastonbury has been having a May festival in the interest of St. Luke's Episcopal church. Last night over one hundred persons who had eaten ice cream at the festival were taken ill. The four physicians were kept busy last night and to-day. The symptoms were those that attend poisoning. In many instances whole families were taken sick. The trouble was traced to the vanilla ice cream sold at the festival. The physicians express but slight hopes for the recovery of thirty-four of the victims. They are ignorant of any known remedy for the strange disorder, and all they can do is to administer drugs that will make the patient more comfortable. In other cases, where the victims partook sparingly of the cream the effect of the poisoning is less severe, the physicians are hopeful of recovery.

Of the many victims those most affected are:

MISS CORA BATES, CLIFFORD CHAPMAN, T. B. GAMMON and family of eight persons, HOWARD J. HALE and family of four persons, MISS HARRY MILLER and family of three persons, MISS EVA MCLEAN, MISS CLARA OTTE, MISS MINNIE PHILLIPS, GEORGE PRATT and family of five persons, H. M. RISING and family of four persons.

In these cases no hopes of recovery are entertained. Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Glazier were entertaining Mrs. B. F. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. William S. Williams of North Glastonbury during the evening. A messenger was sent to the festival for two quarts of vanilla ice cream, and their visitors partook of it, and a few hours afterwards were taken sick. The servants in the house were given a portion of the cream, and they are also ill. Mrs. Glazier and the two Mrs. Williams are quite seriously affected.

The coroner has obtained a sample of the vanilla cream and will analyze it to determine the cause of the poisoning. No one who partook of any other flavor except vanilla at the festival suffers, and the coroner is of the opinion that the poison was in the vanilla extract. All business in the town has been suspended on account of the affair.

Big Fire in Cummings, Ill.

CHICAGO, May 18.—The rolling-mill town of Cummings was visited by fire which destroyed property to the extent of several thousands of dollars. About 3 o'clock Smith & Reeve's barn, near One Hundred and Sixth street and Torrence avenue, was discovered to be in flames, and an alarm was immediately sent to the South Chicago fire department, which is two miles away. The fire soon crossed the street to the large building of Dr. Williams, and in a moment the cupola was ablaze. At this point the firemen put a check to the fire and had it under control in a short time. Had not the fire been stopped here the whole town of Cummings would have been destroyed and possibly the mills. The total loss is $30,000, partially insured.

Three Men Drowned at Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 18.—During a terrific rainstorm Friday night, a temporary dam at the end of Island avenue found its way over and fire working engaged inside were caught by the receding waters. Two of them succeeded in getting out, but the other three were drowned. They are Peter and their names are not known. Their bodies have not been recovered.

Shot by His Brother.

CHICAGO, May 18.—Harry Shire, aged 5 years, son of E. T. Shire of 286 Thirty-ninth street, was shot in the head and almost instantly killed by his 8-year-old brother at their parents' residence this afternoon. The children were playing in the house and found a revolver, which the older boy leveled at his little brother in hand and pulled the trigger, with fatal results.

Fifteen Buildings Burned.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 18.—The business portion of Huntingtonburg, Dubois county, was burned Friday. Fifteen business houses and residences were burned. The principal loss is on Robert's tobacco store, which was filled to the roof with tobacco. Robert's loss is $30,000, with $30,000 insurance. The entire loss, including Robert's is estimated at $175,000.

Thirty-three Men Missing.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 18.—Capt. R. E. Howes of the steamer Alaskan, which was off Cape Horn, and the first officer, Wood, arrived here today on the Columbia. The Columbia brought no tidings of the boats which put out from the Alaskan, and the probability that all of them were lost is strong.

Fatal Wreck in Pennsylvania.

NEWARK, Pa., May 18.—Two freight trains collided on the Pittsburgh & Western railroad near Mahoningtown, this county, this morning. Brakeman A. T. Scott and Frank Cameron were badly injured, the latter it is thought fatally. Fire freight cars and an engine were wrecked.

Two Schooners Ashore.

CHEBOYGAN, Mich., May 18.—The schooners Saveland and H. W. Sage, grain-laden, for Buffalo, are ashore two miles above this city. A tug is now trying to get them aloft.

Killed by Lightning.

LEONARDTOWN, Md., May 18.—Judge John L. Milburn, of St. Mary's county, was struck and instantly killed by lightning Tuesday evening.

BYWARD TO BE WEDDED SOON.

The Ex-Secretary and Miss Clymer Will Be Married Early This Summer.

WILMINGTON, Del., May 18.—The Evening Star says: "The rumor that has been in circulation for past few days to the effect that ex-Secretary of State Bayard was shortly to be married to a lady prominent in Washington society, attracted comparatively little notice here, from the fact that the name of Mr. Bayard has been mentioned in newspaper rumors upon one or two previous occasions in a similar way. It is, however, announced upon the most reliable authority—in fact from a member of the family—that the ex-Secretary will marry Miss Clymer, daughter of Dr. Clymer, U. S. N. It is stated that the wedding will occur early this summer, and that the ex-Secretary and his bride will pass a few months in Europe."

Dr. B. Murch.

Dr. B. Murch, the eminent physician of Detroit, Mich., will visit every town in this county during the summer. Any one suffering with weak eyes, or eyes abused by inferior glasses, should not fail to see him. Orders left at the post-office will be promptly attended to. No extra charge for examining or visiting patients at their homes.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—A dispatch was received by the State Department yesterday from Mr. Carlisle, the United States Minister to Bolivia, stating that that country could be represented at the conference of South American nations to be held here next autumn. The dispatch also referred to Bolivia's intention of being represented at Washington by a minister, the Consul General of that country, who is now stationed in New York, being presented Bolivia's chief diplomatic agent. It is understood that Bolivia will make the United States a first-class mission. This is in line with the policy of the other South American nations in establishing first-class legations at Washington.

Secretary Tracy's Reforms.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Secretary Tracy has just issued an order reforming the practices of the navy department in the purchase of supplies. The secretary found that the practice to purchase supplies at the beginning of each fiscal year, making the list extensive enough to cover the probable needs of the different bureaus for the entire year. The secretary found that there are now on hand stores valued at $2,000,000 scattered among the different stations. He directs that hereafter no purchase of stores shall be made for any station when the supplies can be economically obtained from another station which has an oversupply of the articles needed.

retary of the Treasury Tichenor has decided that San Hing, who is a Chinese resident of El Paso, Tex., and has been engaged in railroad business in past years, can be allowed to re-enter the United States on his return from his trip to Nicaragua on proving that he is not a Chinese laborer under the provisions of the Chinese restriction act. The similar decision was made in the case of a St. Louis Chinaman who desired to visit China.

TERIBLY AFFLICTED.

A Texan's Wife and Children Burned to Death and His Home Destroyed.

St. Louis, Mo., May 18.—Mrs. Mrs.
Louis Palmer was cooking supper in her home at Rockdale, Texas, Wednesday evening, she dropped a lighted lamp and was immediately enveloped in flames. She ran from the house through a bed room in which her two little boys, aged 3 and 4 years, were sleeping, out into the yard where her husband was. The latter attempted to extinguish the flames, but did not succeed until his wife was fatally burned. He then discovered that the house was on fire and it and the two children were consumed. Mr. Palmer was also very badly burned.

The Parnell Commission.

LONDON, May 18.—Father O'Donovan testified before the Parnell Commission today. He said that the moonlighters at Tulla were opposed to the league. They had threatened witness, who was under police protection, while he was connected with the branch of the league at that place. Father O'Donovan attributed the increase of crime during the past year to the action of the landlords in enforcing evictions. Witness had denounced crime from the altar of his church on forty Sunday.

The commission will not make its report to the House of Commons until February, 1899.

A Newborn Seeks Redress.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 18.—A S. Sulberger, who says he is a commercial traveler for Max Marx & Co., of New York, importers of cigars, was arrested here on complaint of Morris N. Ferguson, a lawyer, who alleged that his defendant called him a swindler and addressed a letter to the Union News company, on account of which the plaintiff was discharged from the employ of the company. The charges slander and asks for $100 damages. The boy had exchanged a New York paper for a Syracuse paper read by Mr. Sulberger, and the New York paper was four days old. Sulberger was released on bail.

Overwhelmed with Joy.

PRINCETON, Mass., May 18.—The Rivers child-murder case, which has been on trial here since Tuesday, suddenly collapsed this morning.

At the opening of court, Attorney-General Waterman informed the court he was convinced the evidence did not warrant a trial by jury, and he asked Judge Field to instruct them to return a verdict of acquittal. A remarkable scene followed. Mrs. Rivers being overcome with emotion, while Rivers' friends existed him and each other for joy.

Queen Mary Dead.

MEXICO, May 13.—Queen Mary of Bavaria, mother of King Otto, died last night from dropsy and cancer of the liver.

THOSE UNHAPPY PERSONS who suffer from nervousness and dyspepsia should Seemingly Eccentric.

With repeated and powerful doses of quinine, chills and fever, in some of the various forms of malaria, have been existence again, often without the slightest apparent provocation. To extinguish the mouldering embers of this obstinate and recalcitrant malady, no less than to subdue it when it rages fiercely, is the system. Host's Stomach Bitters is all sufficient. When every resource of the pharmaceutical has been exhausted agist it is vain, the Bitters conquered
it. It will remove every taint of malarial fever. It is the only medicine that can be tried. Nay, more, the Bitters will prevent those brought within the influence of the malarial poison that begets malarial diseases, from its attacks. Disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, are among the complaints to be spontaneously healed from the use of miasma tainted water. These are both cured and prevented by the Bitters. Rheumatism, constipation and Biliousness, yield to its action.

of the Executive board of the Northwestern Rowing association Wednesday night, as not to conflict with the National or Mississippi Valley association.

ALMOST A CYCLONE.

DESTRUCTION BY Wind and Rain in the Southwest.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., May 18.—A little after 6 o'clock Friday night a funnel-shaped cloud struck the lower part of this county, scattering buildings and trees in every direction. No loss of life is reported, though a number of persons came near being badly hurt. Fortunately the cloud rose high in the air without doing serious damage, though for miles eastward there was thick blackness in the sky. A light wind and heavy rain speedily prevailed after the cloud passed.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 18.—A heavy rainstorm passed over this section Friday, doing a great deal of minor damage in this city, and in Kan., where the Kansas River crossed and sewers were badly washed out. The railroads were all badly demoralized and not a road sent in a train except on time Friday night. A large portion of the city was flooded. The Missouri river was washed down over the Chicago & Alton tracks and that road was compelled to use the Walsh tracks.

At Kansas City, May 18.—The severest storm of the season for the city raged here Friday night. The lower part of the city was completely flooded and business houses have their cellars full of water. Thousands of dollars damage has been done. Considerable hail fell.

SALINA, Kan., May 18.—This section of the country has just been visited by a perfect deluge of rain. It has been highly beneficial to the crops but disastrous to the railroads. The Rock Island & Santa Fe tracks at Sand Springs have been washed out. The Missouri Pacific had two washouts of a few miles east and west of here, and the south branch east of Margaret three trestles were displaced. The Mc-Pherson branch of the Union Pacific also had fifty feet of track carried away.

McPherson, Kan., May 18.—This section was blessed with the best rain of the season, which insures a good crop. There is a washout on the Union Pacific, thirteen miles north, that delays transportation, passengers, baggage, and express transfers having to be made from one train to another.

Riot on a Railroad.

WHEELING, W. Va., May 18.—A telegram from Beverly, Randolph county, says a terrible riot took place yesterday between laborers on the extension of the West Virginia Central railroad.
About forty men were engaged in the disturbance. Three men were shot—one through the lung, one through the head, and one through the thigh. Two others were seriously stabbed and others otherwise injured.

The lesson of this simple story should be plain to all. No man or woman can afford to neglect such first symptoms of consumption, which seem so slight but which become so terrible unless taken in time. This Great Remedy has saved the lives of hundreds of well known men and women, and the large number of gains from consumption but who are well and happy to-day. It is sold universally.

JOHN H. VERMILYE DEAD.

Janesville's Former Banker Passes Away.

John H. Vermilye, for years cashier of the Janesville City Bank, died in Lockport, New York, last night. Death was caused by apoplexy.

Since January, 1888, Mr. Vermilye has been president of the National Exchange Bank of Lockport. He came to Janesville in 1850, and after serving several years as cashier of the City bank filled the same position in the Central Bank of Wisconsin, now the First National.

A HOTEL WASHOUT.

A FOND MADE OF THE CENTRAL HOTEL DINING ROOM.

A stream of water that looked like the overflow from the dam poured into the dining room of the Central house on Franklin street last evening. The gutter was stopped up and the flood found vent through the hotel basement. Down the stairs it poured and through the hallway, carrying sticks, leaves, mud and rubbish with it. A wall kept it from going any further, so it eddied back and turned into the dining room where the boarders were beginning to gather for supper into a mud-filled, unseemly looking tank. In the midst of the refuse-burdened pond that ebbed and flowed stood the tables, but the chances for anyone's reaching them seemed poor. Finally the rain stopped and the water was swept out but a patch of mud marked where it had been. About ten o'clock the overflow began again, and this time an additional stream was poured in through the kitchen window. This morning Landlord Shoemaker was in no amiable mood.

"It comes just the same every time there is a big storm," he said indignantly. "That passage way across Franklin street is stopped up to within three inches of the top, and it sends water down into my kitchen and dining room every little while. If it happens any more the city will have to pay for it."

LIGHTNING SHOWS SOME OF ITS WORK IN THIS CITY.

Carl Fab-4, the well known contractor, and a carpenter in his employ were at work on Conductor Frank Bugha's new house in the fifth ward when the storm came up yesterday afternoon. They were just congratulating themselves that they were not out doors, when a deafening crash came and the house seemed to be falling to pieces. Flames burst from the ceiling, and Mr. Fabet who was thrown against some timbers by the jar, supposed the lightning had entered the house directly over his head. He stood for a moment half numb, and then accompanied by his fellow-workman jumped from the building and ran to a place of safety. Seeing then that the house was on fire, they returned and the flames were extinguished before damage of any importance had been done.

Just before the afternoon storm ended lightning struck the factory of the Janesville Morocco Co. on North River street. The bolt was carried down the smoke stack and through the boiler and engine into the ground doing little damage.

MADE HIS LAST RUN.

FUNERAL OF A VETERAN RAILROAD ENGINEER AT MONROE.

The funeral of Jesse Symonds, an old and well-known engineer on the St. Paul road, took place at Monroe on Wednesday last. A large number of railroad men were present, among them several from this city, where the deceased was well known. Symonds' record as a locomotive engineer is a remarkable one, and is probably without a parallel. For thirty-four years he has followed his occupation, never missing a run, and never laying off on account of sickness until a few weeks preceding his death. He never met with any serious accident, and it is estimated that during the above time he has made runs aggregating upwards of 1,500,000 miles.

KILLED WITH BARE IN ARMS.

A Terrible Casualty at the Home of Dayton Flagg Last Evening.

Mrs. Flagg Stricken Down By Lightning—Flames Sweep the House.

Last evening about four o'clock, the farm house occupied by Mr. Dayton Flagg, situated on the Shoptown road, about five miles from the city, and one mile south of the Red farm, was struck by lightning, and Mrs. Flagg was instantly killed.

Dr. E. E. Loomis was summoned to the scene of the killing and arrived about eight o'clock. The doctor informed a reporter that Mrs. Flagg was standing just outside the doorway with her one-year-old babe in her arms, apparently nursing it, and at the same time watching the storm, the rain not yet falling. Mr. Flagg was standing in the doorway, close to his wife, while the other members of the family—four children—were inside the house. The first that Mr. Flagg noticed was his wife lying on the ground holding the baby tight in her arms. He hastened to pick her up and carried her inside and not knowing her to be dead, again took her into the open air. Discovering the house to be on fire, he then directed his efforts to save the children, getting them all out. Mr. John Haviland and wife soon arrived and the fire was easily extinguished.

On examination of the body of Mrs. Flagg it was found that the fluid first struck her just above the left breast, taking a circular course down the center and partly around the breast leaving three marks as it scratched with finger nails. Here it appears it left her and passed to over the baby, showing itself again on Mrs. Flagg's body at the pit of the left ear, passing downward and around the body to the end of the spine, showing superficial burns all the way, and very severe at the ends. The most severe and deepest burns were visible upon the body of the baby, especially along its spine, the burns being deep. Mrs. Flagg was, of course, instantly killed. Dr. Loomis found the little baby bright, and apparently as though nothing had occurred, and it is thought nothing will show itself as the effects of the shock.

Mr. Flagg was severely shocked, but does not remember, as the first he noticed was as stated above.

The house was badly torn up. The chimney was torn to pieces, and the roof and other parts wrecked more or less.

Mrs. Flagg formerly lived in Marcellus, Michigan, her maiden name being Miss Jennie Smith. Her parents still reside in that place, and it is intended to take her remains to Michigan, her old home, for burial. She leaves five little children.

The husband and family have the sincere sympathy of all in their sad bereavement.

THE KING'S DAUGHTERS.

WET WEATHER DOES NOT QUENCH THEIR MISSIONARY ZEAL.

Thirty wide-awake and enthusiastic young ladies from all parts of the county made up the missionary picnic in the Congregational church parlors to-day. Some time ago the secretary of the Loan, Band of Kings' Daughters, a missionary society consisting of a number of the leading young lady members of the Congregational church, issued invitations to the young ladies of thirty-five different communities in Rock county to be present at a missionary rally to be held in the parlors of the Congregational church in this city to-day. In spite of bad roads and inclement weather the invitations were responded to by the presence of the thirty young ladies who answered to the roll call promptly at ten o'clock this morning. It was the object of the meeting to discuss the work of young ladies in foreign fields. The exercises were both interesting and instructive and were attentively listened to. The following was the morning program:
